Updating Soon

For some reason I was unable to update my blog while I was on the west coast last week. I'll have updates of my trip there to San Diego and LA as well as my trip to Jersey in August coming out soon.

Sitcom Buffoonery

I watched "The Office" last night. I have heard lots of good reviews of the show. I couldn't see the appeal however. Last week I watched "The Class" for the first time. That wasn't too bad but what's next? "The Farm?" "The Factory?" How about "The Crapper," a new series in which Mama and Papa Turd hang out under the moon on a porcelain white beach discussing the various merits of green vs blue Eau de Toilette???
